BOOSTERS TO ARRIVE THIS EVENING

Everything in Readiness to Welcome Them as Promoters of the Interests of Kentucky.

When the Booster train arrives this evening every citizen and business man of Marion will be at the depot to welcome them and so soon as the procession can be formed, will march up Depot street to Main, thence up Main street to the banquet hall on Salem street in Opera House block where a sumptuous spread has been prepared for them.

Rev. J. B. Adams will ask God to bless the occasion of their visit and Hon. Jno. W. Blue will be Master of Ceremonies.

The announced speakers for Marion on this occasion are: Mayor C. E. Weldon, Hon. W. A. Blackburn and Hon. John W. Blue. Mayor Weldon will deliver the welcome address, after which for a few hours he will turn the keys of the city over to the visitors.

Quite a number of short and interesting talks will be made by members of the Henderson Commercial Club. One of the most lengthy, on the great question of keeping our money within the bounds of our county and state. These gentlemen are not only out in the interest of Henderson, but ours as well, and from them we expect to learn the good and need of a well organized Commercial Club in every town. That it is the best means to go after trade and best of all hold it within the confines of county and state.

We do hope every citizen of Marion will avail himself of the opportunity to meet these, our friends and help in making their visit a truly pleasant one. It is to be remembered that both cities have furnished some of the greatest and most highly honored men of our great state and country and we mean for this to be a congenial meeting of men who are each proud of the high honors conferred on them by the greatest people in the world. Among the dead of Henderson's honored sons are Powells, Dixons, Brown, Cissell, Lockett, Clay, Burbanks and Soapers and many others who we cannot call to mind at present. While among the living, is the great Stanley, Henson, Dixon, Givens of the Gleaner, Harris of the Journal, Witt, Dallam, Elliott, Banks, Argue, Thompson, Star and a host of others. We are proud of the Henderson Boosters and mean to welcome them as best we know how.

The very latest in the treatment of old floors, dirt stained floors or soft wood floors, is Chi-Namel Parquet Floor Stenciling Process, by which any inexperienced person can produce the inlaid hard wood effect.

Makes a $100 floor at a cost of only 2c per sq. foot.

Completely hides the old floor, stains, streaks and all other blemishes. See the lady demonstrator at our store on Monday May 9th and you will be able to go home and duplicate what she does.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, we have sold three crops of tobacco through the Stemming Association; and

Whereas, we have this day had a verbal report from Manager William Elliot, and also from several members of the Executive Committee, from which we have learned that all of the outstanding warehouse receipts on the 1908 crop will be paid face value, a fraction more or a fraction less, within a few weeks, and have also learned a dividend will, in the near future, be declared and paid on the 1909 crop;

And, we, having confidence in the ability and honesty of the General Manager and Executive Board of this Association.

Therefore, be it resolved that we the members of the Stemming District Tobacco Association, in convention assembled do hereby endorse the work of the Executive Board and other officers of this Association, and recommend that the tobacco growers of this county pool their 1910 crop of tobacco with organization.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM CARTERVILLE

A Letter That Will Provoke Interest to a Great Many Crittenden County People.

Cartersville, Ill., April 29 1910.
Crittenden Record-Press.
Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:—The last time that Bryan was defeated for the Presidency I paid my subscription to the Record-Press, and as it will soon be campaign again I guess I had better get on good terms with the good old Record-Press, so I enclose herewith Two Dollars ($2.00) which I have been permitted to get ahead, notwithstanding the present high cost of living, and will ask that you kindly put the same to my credit and keep the paper coming.

As I have been away from my "Old Kentucky Home" for several years, and have never written anything for Record-Press that my friends should know where I was or what I was doing, will just ask that you allow me space in your good paper to say a few words to them, and I trust is not asking too much of you.

I am located in Cartersville, Ill., which is in the center of the great coal fields in the State. Cartersville coal has long since made its name famous throughout the United States, and its coal is used by all the leading Manufacturing establishments in Chicago and St. Louis, and it was Cartersville coal furnished by the company I am working for, that steamed Mr. Taft and his party down the Mississippi river last fall.

Cartersville has a population of about 7,000 people, and the principal occupation is coal mining, and its miners have the reputation of being the best throughout the State. It has two schools, churches of the following denomination: Missionary Baptist, Free Will Baptist, Christian, Presbyterian, Methodist and Catholic. Has business of every kind found in any small city, and has lodges as follows: Mason, I. O. O. F., K. of P., M. W. of A., Red Men, Royal Neighbor Pocahontas, Rhebeccas and Pythian Sisters. It has three Bands, one of which is the M. W. of A. band of thirty members, the picture of which was recently published in the paper, "Modern Woodman." Now that I have told you what she has, I will tell you of two things she has not, the first of which is saloons, and Cartersville town ship is the only dry one in this, Williamson, county. The second is there is not a negro in town, which is due to the fact that some twelve years ago they had a riot in Cartersville and all the negroes that were not killed were run out of town.

I have been in the employ of four different companies, since I came to Illinois, and for the past four years have been with the Madison Coal Corporation, and am at present Assistant District Superintendent with office at Dewmaine, Ill. Dewmaine is only a coal mining camp one mile out of Cartersville.

I suppose it is needless for me to say I am married for it would be impossible for me to live here seven years without finding one that strikes you hard, for there are about four girls, pretty ones, to every boy, ugly of course, so this accounts for me being mar-

CHI-NAMEL IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

Demonstration Day Monday, May 9th at W. Tucker's Furniture Store, Salem Street.

There will be a Chi-Namel Demonstration at our store on Monday 9. Do not miss the opportunity to learn in five minutes how to secure a new hardwood floor for $2.50, and how to have a Mission finish dining room, den, or sitting room without the expense of removing old paint or varnish.

Any old floor, oil cloth or linoleum made to look like new hard wood, any style of grain. Lesson free by special instructor.

W. O. TUCKER, FURNITURE CO.

We have arranged with the manufacturers of Chi-Namel and the Chi-Namel Graining, Staining, and Varnishing Processes to have one of their expert demonstrators spend a few days with us for the special purpose of teaching our trade to use the little training tool and furnish our patrons free of cost, expert instruction in the treatment of interior wood work. This will be a rare opportunity for the ladies to learn how to grain and varnish their own floors and wood work. Chi-Namel graining will outwear the ordinary floor varnish many times over.

I find quite a few Kentuckians here and as Bro. H. C. Gilliland said in his letter published Apr. 28th "There is a certain grip, a certain friendly twinkle in the eye" that enable me to recognize one even in the dark.

Well for fear this finds its way into the waste basket instead of the Record-Press I will close, and then I want to leave room for the interesting tobacco news of which I am very fond.

With best wishes to all, I am

A STAND FOR REST ON THE SABBATH

Ministers of the Various Churches Ask Congregations for Aid in Sunday Observance

There is now before the people of Marion a movement, looking toward a better observance of Sunday as a day of rest and worship.

On last Sunday morning the congregations of the town expressed the sentiment of our community in the resolutions published as a part of this article. It is to be hoped that all the people will buy their groceries, and other necessities on Saturday and that Sunday hereafter may be a day of real rest and worship. Such a reformation will make our town ideal in every respect.

Resolutions adopted by all the congregations:

We, the undersigned, representing a large per cent of the population of the city of Marion, wish to publicly express our desire that all our business houses shall close their doors to all business on Sunday.

In this expression, we further desire to pledge to the city authorities our hearty co-operation in the enforcement of the Sunday Laws.

AN EVEN BREAK AT MADISONVILLE.

In Last Game Both Sides Went up in the air Running the Score to 13 to 15.

Marion High school team went to Madisonville Friday to play two games with the High School at that place. The first game resulted in a victory for our boys the score of 5 to 2, but lost the second game by a score of 15 to 13.

While we failed to get a report of the games, the first, to judge from the score must have been a good game while the last must have been a poor one, and yet from reports was very much enjoyed.

Our boys were made to enjoy their trip, arriving home Sunday with not a word of complaint.

On Friday and Saturday of this week Madisonville will play our boys at our beautiful Maxwell Park, when, if the weather be favorable a big crowd is expected to greet them.

Mr. Eddie Brahe of Paducah was in Marion Wednesday and signed up for the season; he is one of the best amateur catchers in Western Kentucky.

Mr. Maxwell is very busy these pretty days getting the lawn tennis court in shape for the young ladies at the Park.

We received a card from our old Pitcher Cooperider stating that he had won a victory from Springfield Ohio college, score being 4 to 0 in a 12 inning game.

We are making preparations to open our season about May 15th and will play any team not in the leagues.

FARMERS' UNION

In order that the Kentucky organizers of the Farmers' Union might make a good showing in St. Louis, where the next meeting of the Farmers' Union takes place, they left on a trip through Webster and Union counties. Although the counties have already been organized, the organizers feel that there are a great many others who will join in the next few weeks, in St. Louis. The representatives from Western Kentucky will be: State Secretary R. L. Barnett, of Paducah, and the Rev. H. McGee, of Heath. Paducah News Democrat.

FOR ASLE

One 15 H. P. J. I. Case engine nearly new. One 28 inch Belleville Separator and a saw rig. All in good working order. Have about 200,000 feet of sawing engage. A bargain if taken at once. Come and see.

Paducah, Ky. - The Paducah & Illinois Railway Co., it is reported, will apply to the United States Government for authority to build a bridge over the Ohio at a point near Metropolis, Ill., about 12 miles from Paducah. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad is said to be interested. W. L. Breckenridge is engineer in charge of way of the latter at Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Rogers Gore, private secretary to Congressman Ben Johnson, of the fourth Kentucky district has arrived in Louisville from Washington, and announces that he is here to take charge of the preliminary work of Mr. Johnson's canvass for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mr. Gore states that Mr. Johnson has fully determined to seek the nomination, and will make an organization that will reach over the entire State.

It is believed that Mr. Johnson, in addition to the strength in his own district, has the promise of support of Col. Whallen and the Haldeman newspapers in Louisville and of the party organized in Lexington.

Former Gov. Beckham is strongly opposed to Mr. Johnson, and it is believed he will lead a fight against his nomination, although behind what candidate is not known. Former Senator James B. McCreary has been mentioned as a possible opponent for Mr. Johnson. From the steps taken by Mr. Johnson, in arranging to open up headquarters, it is obvious that a hard fight is ahead for the future control of the party.

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter both with and without china.

The Crittenden Record-Press

N. E. CALMES Editor and Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter February 27th 1907 at the postoffice at Marion, Kentucky, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One Dollar the Year in Advance.

Let ever citizens of our good town meet the "Booster" train this evening at 4:45 and extend to them a hearty welcome.

If Sears & Roebuck stoves and furniture are the best, surely they are prepared to pay you the best price for your poultry, eggs, and all farm products. Honest now, don't it look so?

When the jovial Boosters arrive to-day they will find our town full of live sure enough business men. Main street in Marion will compare with any town of the size in the State.

Our merchant have too long been sitting right and left, profiting by it. The people naturally judge a town by the business vim of her merchants. Our business men are enjoying the best trade in the history of Marion and they will tell you live advertising is responsible for it.

A few of our subscribers are unreasonable enough to condemn us because they say we have too many advertisements, and at the same time they read all the mail order ads they can get hold of sending their money out of the county and State depriving the merchants of it, when at the same time when credit is wanted they come to the home man for it. "Oh consistency thou art a jewel."

You have too many advertisements stop my paper, and at the same time the man who utters these words is the man who is to improve it. Let him be the "champion" of the "booster" that we print eight pages, all at home and at just double the cost of the patent sheet with four pages printed at Memphis or Cincinnati; compare our paper with one of them and if we have not more news with all our ads we will give him the paper free. We mean every word of this. Just make the comparison.

We are to-day, Wednesday, welcoming 150 of our neighbors from the beautiful city of Henderson, "the Boosters". They are no only great, big hearted loyal Kentuckians, but men, many of them closely allied with us, and are out on this trip in their interest and ours. They are not with us to-day for the purpose of influencing our people to trade with them, but to the contrary, to keep our money at home. Keep it in the bounds of the towns of the county as long as our needs can be supplied, and when they cannot to then go to Henderson or some other Kentucky city. Henderson capitalists are stock holders in our mineral mines and Crittenden county men, sell Henderson buggies from both Henderson factories.

Our Henderson friends as well as ourselves, help to contribute to our great Commonwealth, for which, we should join hands with them in one great united effort to save the people from the craze to trade away from home. The St. Louis and Chicago houses, especially the mail order ones, have no common interest with us and why should we prosper them with our business.

Let the cry be heard from the Big Sandy to Fulton and from all up the Ohio to the Tennessee line. "Buy everything you need from Kentucky Manufacturers and dealers," and if heard and put in practice, our reward will be the upbuilding of home and home institutions.

LETTER FROM JUDGE J. P. PIERCE.

In Which There is Much Good Reasoning and Common Sense Talk.

Dear Citizens, Without any intention or desire to provoke controversy with our brethren of the Stemming District, I wish through the columns of the Record Press to notice an article in this week's issue of your paper from Mr. J. N. Banks in which he evidently undertakes to make an unfavorable comparison between the Farmers' Union and the Stemming District as to their respective success in handling their Pools of tobacco. Now let us deal fairly with this matter and in order that we may do this I wish first to say that I think it very unfortunate that any one be a member of either the Stemming District or the Farmers' Union, or both, should do or say anything detrimental to the success of the other, and this has been and is being done, a blind man can see.

In the article referred to Mr. Banks says: "If the Stemming District Association has handed over to its members in Crittenden county more money net on an average than has the Farmers' Union then the growers should sign up with the Stemming District" and on the other hand if the Farmers' Union have handed over more money than the Stemming District, then sign up with them. Now it is a well known fact that the Stemming District people have had several years experience in handling their tobacco it is equally as well known that the 1909 crop was the first general pool the Farmers' Union of Crittenden county have ever handled and as to the matter of which handled over to the growers the most money even to the 1909 crop as much as the Stemming District or even approximating as much, they have under all of the circumstances made wonderful success, for we who know have had the management know that we have been handicapped from the start.

First our pool was small. Second our people were poor and needing money and insisting that we sell, or they would be compelled to dump, and last, but not least the buyers that we were corresponding with, with a view to inducing them to look at our tobacco, were told at least two weeks before we sold that our tobacco was sold. Some of them have told us they would have been glad to have taken our Pool in their contract, but were told it was sold, but I am glad to say that in evidence of the fact that our people are satisfied with what they are doing, and are now in position to do, (Owning their own factory they have already Pooled very nearly, if not as much for 1910 as the 1909 Pool amounted to.)

Now my Brethren lets be loyal to the one or the other, and fair to each and not try to pull down, as we all know our interest are mutual. So lets not try to serve two masters, we can't do it. Quit throwing sticks, but if in your zeal for your organization you can't see any other interest, then say so, that others may know where to place you.

Respectfully,
J. P. PIERCE,
Chr. Com.

Farmers should eat more oatmeal.

Although the farmer of today is able to buy almost anything he wants to wear or eat he isn't paying enough attention to food values when it comes to his own table.

If he has been watching the extensive researches and experiments on the question of the best human food for muscle and brain he will heed the advice from all sides to "eat more Quaker Oats."

Quaker Oats is mentioned because it is recognized in this country and Europe as the best of all oatmeals.
Feeding farm hands on Quaker Oats means getting more work out of them than if you feed them on anything else.

For hot climates it is packed in hermetically sealed tins; regular size package 10c.

Constipation

Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds.
That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Saville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.
Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail.

THE POSTAL SAVINGS

BANK.

What Hon. C. C. Carlin, Representative from Virginia Thinks Of It.

The postal saving bill, known as the administration bill, which was introduced in the present Congress, is vastly different from the bill as it now appears, after having passed the Senate of the United States, but is useful to us in indicating the ultimate purpose of the present administration, and in aid of the point which I am going to elaborate, what may happen to banks. I do not know how closely you gentlemen have read the two bills, the one as it was originally prepared, the other as it was passed by the Senate, but taking the bill as it is, and assuming that it will pass Congress and receive the signature of the President, I have no hesitancy in saying that I believe it would fasten upon this country a system of which would inevitably overthrow the present banking system of the country.
Both State and national, and lead to a Government bank, pure and simple, conducted by Government officials, paid by Government money. This is a day when there is a great tendency toward centralization of power in the Federal Government. The States and their rights are daily being encroached upon, and the Constitution of the United States in its construction by the courts is being made more elastic for the purpose of keeping pace with the sentiment, or what seems to be the sentiment, of the times. The great railroads of the country, which up to a short while ago were practically under the control of the States of the Union, will within a few years be absolutely under control of the Federal Government, if not, the dreaded and more deplorable condition, of Government ownership. Couple this great force with the system of banking, centralized at Washington, and we will have accomplished a centralized Government here which will control and govern the States of the Union, leaving to them only a remnant of the sovereign powers of which they were wont to boast.

Great arteries of transportation under the present law and the pending law, as contemplated by the administration, are gradually being drawn into this centralizing force, and it is no surprise that its companion measure, designed for the purpose of centralizing the money of the people of Washington, should now find its way to our statue-books. It is a matter of indifference what the present law may provide. The real burning question is the establishment of system. All else is detail.

Let us examine the present law and strike out of it two of its present provisions, and you will find that the Federal Government has actually taken charge, under the guise of a postal banking system, of all of the moneys of all of the people.

In the first place, it provides for the paying of interest at 2 per cent., and provides that it cannot be deposited in any bank at a lower rate of interest than 2-1-4 per cent. What do we find this provision to mean?

Laying aside all of the constitutional arguments which have been made against the bill, and discussing it as though it were constitutional, this provision means that Government will not only refund the money which is deposited in the 50,000 postoffice-charge you gentlemen at least 2-1-4 per cent. interest on the same in order to get it back.

Now let us see how this will operate. In order to meet the demand for guaranteed deposits, which was proposed by the Democratic platform, we find that the Federal Government and the Republican party, which found fault with that provision in the platform, have gone a step further and have not only given the public a guaranty for their money if they become de-positors with them, but are actually willing to pay 2 per cent.
upon same, a much better guaranty from the standpoint of the individual than was proposed by the Democratic platform, because of the additional inducement of interest. Now, then, in order to establish and fasten this system upon the people, they have consented to a great many limitations, one being that no person shall deposit more than $100 in any one month, and shall not carry a balance at any time greater than $500.

Now, my friends, if this would remain the law, or if it were the intention of those who favor this law to permit it to remain, you might not be willing to find so much fault with it at present, but when you come to examine the question you will find that when this system is once fastened upon the people, which is likely to happen within the next six months, the first change which will be demanded will be with reference to the very items of amounts to which I have referred. Take off the limit of $500 as provided in the bill of today, and the $100 limit of monthly deposits, and in less than two years there would not be a bank left standing in the United States, their places having been supplied by the postoffices of the county. Now, why do I say this? Because this bill provides, in section 7, "that any depositor may withdraw the whole or any part of the funds deposited to his or her credit, have by your support of the Republican party invited a competitor into the banking business which is likely to destroy your business. It is true that they enter at the door of small affairs and amounts seemingly, thus for the present leaving to you the larger accounts, but how long will you be able to hold the larger accounts when the Government applies the principles of this bill to them, viz., the faith and credit of the Government is pledged to return to the depositor his money upon demand, and to pay him accrued interest at 2 per cent. I doubt, my friends, if this matter has ever found such serious thought in your minds in the past as it must of necessity find in the future. There is but one step necessary, after the establishment of this law to make the Treasure of the United States absolute master of the money of the people of the country; that is, to strike from the bill the provision which requires the money to be deposited in the banks of the locality from which it is received. A simple little line, and it was never intended by the present administration, and the bill as it was introduced in Congress contained no such provision. —Manufacturers' Record.

The astronomers say Halley's comet will not interfere with our earthly affairs and we may continue to pursue the evil tenor of our way.

But it might be well for us to remember that some day the elements shall meet with fervent heat and the world shall be no more.

Comets have sometimes caused great terrors.

The appearance of Halley's comet in 1486, just as the Turks had become masters of Constantinople, and threatened to advance into Europe, filled the Western nations with dread, and to their prayers were added "Lord save us from the Turks, the devil and comet."

Some farce able to drive back appears to seize these and sweep them out into space with wonderful swiftness thus making the tail and producing the comet light, but it is also produced by the reflected light of the sun.

They generally move from East to West the tail always preceding from the sun.

About May the 18th, is the time fixed by the astronomers in which the earth will pass through the tail of one of the greatest comets ever known to the ages.

We are not a prophet nor a son of a prophet, but let us watch on May 18th and during three hours on that day we will see wonders, but don't be alarmed.

ADAMS—JEFFORDS

Five Jeffords and Betty Adams of the county applied early Tuesday morning for license to marry, but the girl claiming to be but 19 years old, County Clerk Guess refused them license. After a consultation the couple again appealed to Mr. Guess, the girl stating she had made a mistake, but they were again refused. Finally in the evening they, by some means furnished proof sufficient for Mr. Guess to grant them license and 2 o'clock they were married by Rev. J. S. Henry at New Marion Hotel.

The Husband Explains

She threw the letter on the table and looked over at her husband.

"That's just like a woman," she said. "Anybody would suppose that I had been trying to do her a mean trick from the tone of her letter, and I thought I was doing her a favor."

He went right on reading the newspaper, devoting the rest of his attention to his coffee.

"Don't take enough interest in my affairs to read the letter, I suppose," she went on, getting dangerously near the teary stage. "Well, you needn't, then."

"You just tell me what's in it, dear," he said. "That will be sufficient."

She seemed mollified and picked up the rejected letter.

"I can tell you what's in it," she went on. "It's just in answer to what I wrote her about the flat. You know Jenny Smith told me that she would always like to take this flat off our hands if we were tired of it; that she had never seen a flat anywhere so good; that she would regard it as a great favor if we did let her know and that she wanted just such an apartment."

"I did that and now she writes back that she is very appreciative of my offer, but that under the circumstances she thinks she will not be able to take it off our hands, much as she would like to be of service to us. She writes as if I had implored her to rent it as a great favor to me."

"That's just the way with people when you ask them to do what they have said they are very anxious to do once they get the idea that they are doing you a favor. It's just the same thing that happened when I asked the Joneses if they wanted my cook."

"Every time they came to the house last winter they used to rave over Emily. They would be so happy if only they could get such a cook, they said. Yet when I wrote to them that we were giving up keeping house and that they could have her if they wanted her they seemed to be actually embarrassed about the matter, as if they were having a servant forced on them willy nilly."

He had not indicated any great interest at the beginning, but listened more attentively as his wife's narrative proceeded. Then he put down the paper and began to talk himself.

"Don't you remember the time you bought that old side table at auction and Mary asked you to let her have it if you ever wanted to sell it?"

She nodded. "Don't you recall also how patronizing she was when you told her you thought you might let her have it because you didn't want to crowd your dining room? Surely you have not forgotten how she tried to wriggle out of taking it just as if you were determined to hold her to a bargain."

She admitted that she had not forgotten a detail of this transaction. Then she also admitted how provoked she had been when her cousin Helen had asked her to give her the refusal of her old horse Sally if she decided to sell her when they went to town in the autumn.

"Then how can you," he asked, "with these things fresh in your mind, put yourself in the way of being patronized again in such fashion? You ought to learn that what they do not possess often seems very attractive to persons so long as it remains the property of others. It is quite a different thing when it becomes attainable to them."

"It almost invariably happens that they have ceased to care for it and it is only human nature for them to give themselves the satisfaction of showing the owners that they are now in possession of the situation. So remember that trait the next time you offer to anybody a similar kindness."

A Monkey Trick.

Curator Raymond L. Ditmars, of the New York zoo, was praising the intelligence of monkeys.

"A Philadelphia man," he said, "was hurrying out Towson avenue one afternoon when, all of a sudden, an organ grinder's little monkey dropped dead. The poor grinder's grief was pitiful. The Philadelphia man, touched, gave him a tall dollar and hastened away."

"An hour later, returning through market street, he saw the same organ grinder, and, just as he passed, the monkey again dropped dead, and the grinder's grief was even more pitiful than before."

"The Philadelphia man gave a loud laugh. The grinder, recognizing him, laughed, too, but made no motion to return the tall dollar."

Two Sides to Great Actress.

Mrs. Siddons was, on and off the stage, "two different people." On the stage she was a pythoness, nightly hypnotized into passionate emotions by the sight of the drop curtain and the boards, says a writer. In her home she was, at all events to the casual observer, more than a thought too much a mere mother and British matron, loving to be seemingly and of good report, shut in the tower of an unimaginative nature. Had she not been an actress she would have made (such an observer might have said) an ideal bishop's wife.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
